MIRON Violetglass is more than luxurious colored glass. It's a unique, special mix of minerals, resulting in a miraculous glass. It acts as a filter that blocks the complete spectral range, allowing only violet light and UV-A / IR to penetrate. This naturally enhances and preserves the nutrients and vitality of your natural and organic ingredients perfectly.

The protection of the glass assures that taste, smell, color, bioenergy, and product's properties remain longer preserved. MIRON Violetglass is the best quality packaging out there for helping to keep your products fresh and pure.

Wide neck jars

SATURN

CARINA

The Saturn wide neck jars are characterized by their wide opening at the neck and their standard thread. The lid is flush with the body of the jar, which gives it a modern robust look. They are ideal packers for the food and natural medicine industry to store high-quality products such as supplements, powders, and teas. The Carina (wide neck) vitamin jar series has a chic, slender and vintage look. The lid is not aligned with the body of the jar, creating a shoulder. This makes it perfect for dosing capsules.

Bottles

AQUARIUS & AGUILA

The MIRON Aquarius bottles can be used for any kind of liquid, including syrups, juices and water. The smaller sizes are also perfect for personal or home use, like soap dispensers, or fragrance trigger sprays. The smooth Aguila bottle has a capacity of 500 ml and is often combined with a (child-resistant) screw cap and violet inlay, made to protect high-quality natural liquids.

Apothecary & specialties

LIBRA & POLARIS

The classic Libra apothecary jars are often used to store medicinal products and special herbs. Or cosmetics, like bath salts or room fragrances. They come with a grinded MIRON stopper to preserve the dry or liquid ingredients. Our 100 ml Polaris bowl was originally made in 1995, to protect the efficacy of sun remedies produced in Cyprus. Both the base and lid are made from MIRON glass.

Closures & pumps

MIRON Violetglass not only offers unique biophotonic MIRON glass bottles and jars but offers a total packaging solution to customers in over 70 countries. Therefore, we offer accompanying closures, pumps, pipettes, and other accessories as well. MIRON offers a selection of high-quality pipette droppers. Often called eye droppers, they allow to dose a product drop by drop, applying it accurately in the amount and on the location required. A dropper also ensures that your product does not get contaminated during use. Indeed, only the drop will touch the specific body part (skin, mouth, etc.) concerned which leaves the pipette intact. A pipette dropper is generally made from three parts: a rubber bulb, a hole cap (the body) and the pipette. We also offer a selection of high-quality pump caps in various styles to go with the items of the violet glass bottles family. The collection includes pump caps that dispense products in small amounts between 0.10 ml to 0.19 ml. These are mostly used for cosmetics or medicated lotions and are also called cosmetic dispensers, gel or treatment pumps. For products to be dispensed in larger quantities such as lotions, personal care products, soaps, shampoos or conditioners, MIRON carries regular/high output dispense pump caps with a dose volume of 0.50 ml. The pump caps can be locked with either a twist lock mechanism or a protective cap. To gently spray substances over a larger area avoiding them to soak or saturate, try our range of fine misters. They can be used for fragrances, air fresheners, facial mists, skin care, cosmetics, toners, and many more applications for which only a thin layer of product is necessary.
